HILLTOP ELEVEN MUST DEVELOP LINE

Loss of Ward, Mahlum, Fitzgerald, Barron, and Corcoran Likely to Be Serious.

By BRYAN MORSE.

Georgetown's real problem is the Revelopment of a capable line to sus-Rain its backfield. The Hilltoppers have lost Ward. Mahlum. Fitzgerald. and Barron, a quartet of linemen that gannot be duplicated this season.

The center trio, Mahlum, Fitzgerald and Barron, bore the brunt of the and Barron, bore the brunt of the work on defense, and, with the running game, developed so well by Coach Exendine last fall, furnished the main interference. Fitzgerald a work in cutting through to second defense and the skirting work of the guards in leading the interference gave Wall, Gilroy, and Leighty fine opportunities to click off long runs. Ward's work was rated as good as any tackle in the section. He more than held his own with other tackles and worked nicely with Cusack on left end. Corcorn, the right-fianker, is also numbered among the missing. He was an adept in catching the forward passes hurled by Johnny Gilroy and his all-around defensive ability will be a missing factor.

Georgetown's backfield is not only in-tact, but there are several notable ad-ditions. Jim O'Boyle, Jim Sullivan. Tom Whelan, Leo Cody, and Johnny Tom Whelan. Leo Cody, and Johnny McQuade appear to be making good with a vengeance. There is a chance that a second string backheid will be worked up capable of giving the first tea ma run for its money at all times.

"Red" Cusack, who played left end last season, is back on the job and it will be a difficult matter for any of the newcomers to displace him. Cusack has the experience, grit and ability in addition to the weight and speed. Neil Cronon, last year's sub, is making a try for the other end.

Dan O'Connor, Georgetown's only regular lineman, will probably be able to retain his tackle position. Ward and O'Connor were a strong pair, last season. Frank Green, Larry Greene, Crowe, Showalter, and Tracey look like the best chances for this year's line.

The Blue and Gray coach makes no bones of saying he will have to develop' a new line. Several of the new-comers appear to stack up as strong candidates. It will be necessary, however, to build up a tight defense in order to allow the famous backfield to get going.

Wednesday and Thursday of this week the Maryland Aggies will probably journey over to the Hilltop to give the Hilltoppers a scrimmage. Coach Byrd has promised to bring his Maryland Staters twice during the next few days Georgetown will have no chance to get yeal action before the Navy game. There will probably be a number of Blue and Gray men looking over the Middles when they stack up against Dickinson on Saturday. The Maryland Aggies will also be there to see the Penn players in action, as they come to College Park on October 7 for a game with Coach Byrd's team.

Football Flashes.

Ceach Tom Keady has taken a fancy to Brunner, the former Tome School star, and has placed him at halfback on the varsity. This is his first year on the team.

Lungren, former Swarthmore Prep guarterback, is a candidate for the West Virginia team, which plays at Penn pext Saturday.

Eddie Bennis, coach of the Villanova team, was one of the spectators at Franklin Field on Saturday. His Main Line team opens its season at Rutgers on Baturday.

Freshman practice starts at Penn to-gay, Coach Lon Jourdet has issued the call, and will look over the future stars for the first time this afternoon.

Cornell officially starts its practice to-day. It is the latest start at Ithaca in years. Coach Al Sharpe did not reach the university until Saturday. He has been summering at Chautauqua. N. Y.

With the Braves apparently out of the National League pennant race it is understood that Percy Haughton will take charge of the Harvard football team this week. According to a dispatch from the Hub last night the man who has built so many championship teams at Cambridge will assume his old job on Wednesday.

Charley Barrett, Cornell's famous quarterback of 1918, will play profes-sional football with a team in Pitts-

Scott, Lake and Lowe, the former Exeter stars, who helped Lafayette so materially last season, have returned to the Easton college.

CONFERENCE TEAMS HAVE SEASONED MEN

Many Veterans on Elevens Presage Great Fight for Title Honors.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.-A merry fight for championship honors in the "big nine," otherwise known as the Western conference, appears certain this

Minnesota, which was tied last year for the title, loses only four men by graduation. Chicago will have almost an entire team of veterans. Illinois will offer strong opposition, although several of last year's stars will be missing. Iowa's entry will be built around many

Ohio State and Purdue, however, have sent out tales of distress, but as they rarely cut much of a figure in deciding the conference championship, thei teams will be about what is expected Cleo O'Donnell, now coach at Purdue, is expected to put a better feam in the field than that which represented the Indiana college last fall. Indiana, with a team built around several of last year's stars, and with Coach Ewald O. Stiehm in charge, will be the dark horse entry. Stiehm had wonderful success at Nebraska University, and his efforts at Indiana will be watched with more than ordinary interest. Wisconsin, with a good number of men left over, will be a strong factor in the race. Northwest-ern probably will offer only its usual ern probably will feeble resistance.

Twelve seasoned veterans answered the call at Minnesota a few days ago lost. These are Dunnigan, guard; Al Quist, end; Turnquist, tackle, and Blerman, halfback. This year's line-up will show the following veterans. Parts. when practice began. Only four players show the following veterans. Baston, end: Sinclair, guard; Hensen, center; Hauser, tackle; Long, quarterback; Johnson, Wyman, Bellentyne, Kleffman and Sprafka, backs. Townley and May-jor, disqualified tackles on the 1814 eleven, may be back. They were re-moved last year as ineligibles.

Jackson, Kahn, Gordon, Norgren, Pershing, Bondvinski, Brelof, Brody, Day, Fisher, Harper, Hawk, Knitsch-eild, O'Conneil, Shaeffer, and Townley are back at Chicago, Higgins, Annan, Gemmil, Curtis, Henish, Muiton, and Whyte are new men expected to fight hard for regular positions.

Blosker's graduation leaves a big hole in Purdue's lines, and Coach O'Donnell will have a great deal of trouble in filling his place.

Indiana. be the first of the "big nine" schools to get into action, a game being scheduled for Bloomington on September 30.

May Cut Down.

WORCESTER, Sept. 25.-Sentiment among directors of the Eastern Baseball League, at a special meeting here was said to favor a league of eight clubs next year instead of ten clubs with which the past season started. Manager Duffy, of Portland, was given permission to transfer his franchise to another city.

Holdouts Report.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 25.-Outfielder Fluhrer and Third Baseman Hoffman reported to the Toledo American Association club here today. Both have been holdouts since the Central League closed. Both players were farmed to Springfield early in the season and were ordered to report back several days ago.

LAUREL TRACK WILL

First Stake Races to Be Run Off on Opening Day of Meeting.

Laurel Park, Washington's only race course, now that Benning is closed, will pen its gates next Monday, a week from today, and then will come contests that will decide the championships in the two-year-old and the all-aged divisions of racers. The steeplechasers also will have their battles to decide which is the best jumper of the 1916 sea-which is the best jumper of the 1918 season.

The fact that The Finn, H. C. Hailenbeck's great son of Ogden and Livoma, who won the two big stakes at Havre
de Grace, has beaten Stromboli, Roamer, Short Grass, and Spur, does not settle the championship by any means. The Finn has had all the best of the track conditions and racing luck, and when they come to Laurel Park conditions will be different. The Laurel Park track is perhaps the fastest in the country. A new top dressing has been put on since last season and the track regraded, which makes it, in the opinion of trainers who have horses now at the course,
the very best in the East. Harry F.
Breivogle, assistant to Manager Winn, prophesied that miles will be run better than 1:38 before a week has passed.
The Finn, Roamer, Stromboli, Short Grass, and Spur, not to speak of lesser lights of the turf, will meet for the first time at Laurel in the Baltimore Handicap, to be run the first Saturday of the Grass, and Spur, not to speak of leaser lights of the turf, will meet for the first time at Laurel in the Baltimore Handicap, to be run the first Saturday of the meeting. Roamer has always shown a great liking for the Laurel track. He it is who holds the world's record for a mile and a furlong, made at the Laurel course in 1914. Roamer was always Stromboli's conqueror at Laurel Park, as well as the conqueror of all others, and Trainer Goldsborough still has faith that the son of Knight Errant can beat The Finn, or any other horse over the The Finn or any other horse over the

The Finn or any other horse over the Laurel course.

The first stake of the meeting will be the Laurel Handicap to be run the opening day, Monday, October 2. It closed with forty-two nominations, including such good ones as Water Lady, Sir Edgar, Ima Frank, Blind Baggage, High Noon, Paddy Whack, Prince of Como, Sand Marsh, He Will, Kewassa, Hanson, Squeeler, Top o' the Morning, Crank, Leochares, A.
